Mr Nozaki,

Per our phone conversation, please find attached a copy of the Florida Notification of Regulated Waste Activity form and instructions for your convenience and perusal. You may type directly onto the form and save it for future reference.

You will need to submit a subsequent notification for each facility if any of the following has changed since the last submission: changes in the facility name, location, mailing address, business form, ownership or management control of the facility or its operations; ownership of the real property (land) where the facility is located; facility contact person; type or amount of regulated waste activity; going out of business; tax default; or petition for bankruptcy protection. You can check your current facility status on our website at:
http://appprod.dep.state.fl.us/www\_RCRA/Reports/handler\_sel.asp.

Also per our conversation, please note that Florida does not "deactivate" EPA IDs. EPA IDs may be closed if a facility has gone out of business or has moved to a new location since EPA IDs are site-specific.

If your facilities generate any amount of hazardous waste they are considered CESQG.

Thank you and have a great day,

Yvonne D. Peters
