Jason,

Eventually, the permit will need to be updated to include this change to the facility. At this time, if all you intend to use the additional space for is maneuvering trucks into the loading dock then we can postpone the revision until the next renewal or major modification.

So, provided the additional space will not be used for storage or staging of material, then you can postpone the revision until the next major permit event.

Subject: Land grant agreement

Hello Gentlemen,

I hope this email finds you both doing well. I have a few questions about an opportunity for Lighting Resources acquiring some land from the City of Ocala. The City of Ocala has agreed to grant us 20 feet of land on the east side of our property (East of the docks). We would like to extend the existing fence 20 feet to allow more room for trucks that have trouble backing into our docks. The City is willing to grant us this land with the understanding that if the city ever needs the property back that we would be responsible to remove any changes that we have made to the property. The only changes we plan on making is moving the fence and adding some rock to be able to drive on. My question to you would be do we need to make a modification to the permit? I look forward to your response. Thanks
