RE: Release from Financial Requirements

Dear Mr. Gonzalez:

This letter is to confirm your conversation with Chris Aoussat on September 23, 1999, in our office, regarding your submittal dated September 21, 1999, of the revised closure cost estimates and revision of the financial requirements for your facility.

The Department has agreed to allow the facility to submit the financial closure cost estimate for only the current operation and processes at the facility. Before the facility can be released from the financial requirements for the entire facility, inclusive of the new construction and processes authorized in the issued permit, the facility must submit a request for a minor permit modification to that effect. The fee for the modification is $250.

The minor modification to the issued permit shall include the requirement that, the facility update the financials 60 days prior to the start of new construction to include the cost of closure for the new process and operations, as submitted in the original permit application.

Also include, with the request for the minor modification, an updated "Summary of Closure Cost Estimates" as presented on page 361 of the permit application. This should include a separate cost summary for the current operation as well as a projected cost summary for the new construction and processes, as applied for in the permit application.
