Subject: RE: Chem Con

Bill:

I didn't think of it at the time, but when a Chemcon or any transporter who consolidates waste, accepts that waste, aren't they assuming the role of generator? If that is the case, then Chemcon would be correct. Let's discuss first thing on Monday, just in case.

I'm also adding Chris to my response and forwarding your original message to him. He has the pending enforcement and is involved in several issues related to their renewal application.
