moved up 40.02 points to close at a record 6,010.00. Investors drove the index past 6,000 less than a year after it eclipsed 5,000.

With money pouring in from mutual and pension funds, even those who don't invest directly in the market have a stake in how it is doing. Moreover, the achievement is still a sign that the economy is moving forward, generatearnings and there's an awful lot of money going into the market," said Jerry Lichen, a Hollywood money manager and publisher of The Portfolio Advisor, a monthly newsletter.

The 30 companies that make up the Dow, such as United Technologies, Chevron, Coca-Cola and Walt Disney Corp., are making more money, Lichen said.

the whole world."

Crossing the 6,000 mark looked anything but inevitable only a few months ago. In July, investors were depressed when the index had a series of back-to-back 100-point drops. The bull market that had raged for 5½ years appeared over.
