The production supervisor sent this to David (picture and super short video). Tire fluff bay, they have been diligent since I yelled at them again. He's not really good with technology or his phone apparently, so the photos are very up close.

The fire inspector, Joe, has not come back out, but Brian sent him follow up proof that the action items have been completed. I'll call him tomorrow to see if he wants to visit again. He may just send a new report based upon the information and photos he's been sent.

Robin,

Were you able to provide an update as well as a copy of the fire inspection conducted in July/August even if not all violations were corrected?

Thank you,

Kate Newsome
