Subject: EQ update

I just received a call from Chris Poole. EQ is going to be installing the reactivities magazine first. It has already been ordered. Phase 2 will be to remove the SW treatment tank and replace it with the HW treatment tank. Phase 3 will be to construct the SW treatment tank, located to the north. As the HW and SW tanks are completed, the as-builts and certifications will be submitted.

I asked Chris to keep us posted via e-mail in the event someone from the district might want to swing by and watch one of these activities.
